Answers the Call of the Site Committee.

SHOWS YARDAGE FACILITIES

FAIR SITE MAY NOT BE NAMED FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

World's Fair Directors Will Meet at 4 O'Clock Tuesday Afternoon, but No Decision Concerning the Site is Expected.

It is not expected that the World's Fair site will be announced at the directors' meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The advocates of the various sites are almost unanimous in this belief, and Acting Director Corry H. Spencer virtually admitted it when he said to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning:

"There is much to be done before the executive committee will be ready to make its report.

The two committees at its meeting Monday afternoon, called for additional motion from each of the seven proposed sites on the subject of transportation and terminal facilities.

The two people were the first to answer the committee's call. Alex H. Smith to advocate a statement showing the yardage facilities of the iron and steel cities.

Pittsburgh was named Monday evening.

Advocates of the other sites have not yet had time to prepare the necessary data.

An indication of the leading site boomers, do not believe that a decision will be announced until after the return of President D. R. Francis.

Besides attending the wedding of his son, Mr. Francis will visit the Pan-American Exposition and settle his family in the permanent home he has built in town, R. I., before returning to St. Louis.

His business associates say they do not expect him before next Monday.

In the meanwhile, according to this story, the executive committee, with Mr. Smith and Mr. Jenkins, will be in the city, and everything will be in readiness for a decision as soon as President Francis returns.

Carondelet

Urge Its Claim.

Mr. Smith of Carondelet says the argument he filed with the committee on May 25 was in the nature of a protest to the statement of Mr. Jenkins, superintendent of terminals of the Port Royal in the building of the bridge over the road to the North St. Louis.

Advocates of Carondelet, both for passenger and freight terminals, independent of the Mill creek valley or either of the two railroads, are anxious to have the site.

The press and publicity committee has received many suggestions for the World's Fair symbol or trade-marks. One of the most feasible, according to Mr. Jenkins, is the name of Jefferson and Napoleon Bonaparte viewing the Louisiana purchase in 1803 was regarded with especial interest.

The Woodward & Tiernan Printing Co. some time ago offered a prize of $300 for the most original, artistic and practical suggestions. The entries were few, but many of the suggestions submitted in this competition were exhibited Monday at the meeting of the press and publicity committee.

Secretary Stevens has received from some of the former officials of the Chicago World's Fair a statement of their willingness in enlisting the support of foreign nations in the World's Columbian Exposition, and these will be turned over to the committee.

The board of directors of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. will meet at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Noonday Club.

THOUGHT SHE WEDDED A WOMAN

Mrs. Corder Wanted a Divorce, but Her Spouse Appeared in Time to Prevent It.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Mrs. Joseph Harmon Corder told the police yesterday that she was married to a woman, and that her "husband" had disappeared, taking $300 of her savings.

Mrs. Corder met her "husband" on a ferryboat, and was fascinated by his blue eyes. The woman jilted an old admirer and married the stranger. They were married in the Jefferson City, Mo., last May 25. The bride's name was Anna Schultz. The "bridegroom" gave Judge Lehane E. for marriage, and the woman who had come to take her bride to Pittsburgh. Nothing more was seen of them until last Sunday, when Mrs. Corder came to Judge Lehane and told him that under "his male apparel her husband had worn long stockings and garter and chain mail." She had told him further that in his trunk were a lot of women's garments. She said that shame and humiliation had prevented her telling sooner what had been telling her, but when "he" ran away she determined to tell the judge.

Corder called at police headquarters in Jersey City last night and denied that he is a woman. He said that he went to Hartford, Conn., on a business trip last night. He telegraphed his wife at 53 West Twelfth street that he had gone.

She did not receive the message. Corder returned to New York last night. In the evening papers that his wife had said she had been married to a woman, and hurried to headquarters to deny the story.

When asked about his feminine underclothes, Corder said that they had belonged to a former girl of his and that he had put them on for a joke.

WEST NEWTON, Pa., June 11.—Another explosion occurred in the Port Royal mine of the Pittsburgh Coal and Coke Co. shortly before noon and several of the rescued were dangerously injured. Fire Inspector Callaghan and Fire Boss McFee were the most dangerously hurt and may die. This last explosion in many minds settles the fate of the entombed men and all hope of getting them out alive has been abandoned.

The party that went in this morning was composed of Mine Inspector Bernard Callahan, General Superintendent John Reese, Fire Boss William McFee, Fire Boss Daniel McCullough, Fire Boss Peter McCullough, and Pit Boss Robert McKinney. All but Callahan were sent from the various mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. in an hour another rescue force, led by James Bailey and William Williams, fire bosses, were let down. These men were in the mine trying to rescue the entombed miners with the last explosion came.

A TALENTED YOUNG ARTIST

SAYS:

"Give Peruna My Highest Indorsement. It is Well Deserved."

(To the Peruna Medicine Company of Columbus, Ohio.)

President Jacksonville Art Club.

Mrs. Sophie B. Smith, President of the Jacksonville Art Club, writes from 17 W. Adams street, Jacksonville, Fla., as follows:

"From bad to worse is the story of a hard cold when it settles on the lungs and spreads catarrh through the system. From sick to well is the story when you use Peruna. I have tried it twice, and each time I had a hard cold, and although one was in midsummer and the other in midwinter, Peruna cured me each time. I give it my highest indorsement—it is well deserved."

—Sophie B. Smith.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR'S WIFE PRAISES PERUNA.

Mrs. F. E. Warren, wife of the late Governor and now United States Senator F. E. Warren of Wyoming, writes the following voluntary testimonial to the value of Peruna. She says:

"I am never without Peruna either in my home or in my travels. It is truly a great triumph of scientific medicine. I am constantly troubled with coughs, colds, etc., but thanks to your good medicine, Peruna, I always find a prompt cure. I believe no medicine ever brought before the public has effected so many permanent cures as Peruna."—Mrs. F. E. Warren, 1848 W. 12th street, Washington, D. C.

Catching cold in the summer is a more frequent occurrence than is most generally supposed. Summer is generally supposed to be the time of cold and quiet nights, alternating with hot days, sudden showers following sultry heat, profuse perspiration and cooling draughts, are all peculiar to summer, which causes a multitude of people to catch cold.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives.

Miss Sophie B. Smith

A large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, by sips and not repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

CLAIMANTS ASK THAT CLARA BLOCK'S WILL BE PROBATED.

SUIT IS ON TRIAL TUESDAY

Jewish Hospital et al. Alleges That Mrs. Cohn Has Failed to Establish Mother's Will.

Suit to establish the will of the late Clara Block, whose estate is value at about $60,000, was on trial before Probate Judge Henderson all day Tuesday.

The plaintiff's are the Jewish Orphan Asylum of Cleveland, O., the Home of Aged and Indigent Israelites in St. Louis, the Jewish Hospital of St. Louis, Mount Sinai Cemetery Association of St. Louis, Louis Kohner, Dora Berwin and Louis Kohner of St. Louis; Ross Glucklich of Lima County, Mo., and Celia Fleher of Pleasanton, Kan., Carrie Sternberg of Oklahoma, Sarah Fagin and Agnes Berwin of St. Louis.

It is charged the Home of the deceased had control of the will at the death of Mrs. Cohn on April 3 last, and has failed to probate it.

An alleged copy of the will given in the petition names all of the plaintiffs as legatees as well as Mrs. Cohn, the adopted daughter.

If there was no will, Mrs. Cohn is the only child.

It is contended that during her life Mrs. Cohn made several wills. The last one, it is said, was deposited in a box with the Missouri Safe Deposit Co.

After the death of the testatrix the box failed to reveal the will. Valuable stocks and bonds were also alleged to be in the box but only a few were found.

When the case was called Tuesday the Probate Court room was crowded with witnesses and interested persons in the case.

Col. D. C. Cohn, the son of the plaintiff and Judge Klein the defendants.

The first witness was Miss Fannie Haas, a stenographer, who said that she wrote the will.

The alleged copy of the will which the plaintiff wants probated leaves the stock and bonds to the nieces and nephews and Mrs. Cohn, the adopted daughter. The benevolent institutions that are parties to the suit receive from $50 to $100 a piece.

Mrs. Kennedy Regains Her Self-Control.

THE MOTHER SHEDS TEARS

ROTHER WILL DENIES THAT HE MESMERIZED HIS SISTER.

The Defense in the Kansas City Murder Trial Now Strives to Combat the State's Claim of Conspiracy.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 11.—The defense today opened its side of the case of Lulu Prince Kennedy, on trial for the murder of Philip H. Kennedy, her husband. The prisoner looked particularly well. She had taken particular care in making her toilet and she displayed more interest than usual in the case opened, which she witnessed critically and listening eagerly to the testimony.

Miss Kennedy is not the only outward sign of recovery. She has also determined that she will not. She was dressed in a light blue shirt, waist blue and white blouse.

Will Prince, the prisoner's brother, who is charged with being the principal conspirator in the alleged conspiracy to kill Kennedy, has returned to the office of his attorney, but on a different day. He has lost his hold on his hands, the doctor had said Kennedy was dead, and then Mrs. Kennedy, stepping to the prostrate form, had said he was not.

Thomas H. Ridge, the first to find the scene in the Ridge building at the time of the murder, had come upon the scene soon after a policeman arrived. Mrs. Kennedy had returned to the office and loose his hold on his hands so she might arrange her hair, and that she had remarked she was cool when arrested and when led away remarked that the murder had not caused much excitement.

During the cross-examination the prisoner kept patting the floor with her foot constantly.

Then Will Prince took the stand. He is a prepossessing man of 30. He is a professional in features and looks at her concretely while giving his evidence, kissed his mother and married sister, Mrs. Leon, as he passed them, and patted the prison.

Will Prince, according to a theory of the prosecution, was a professional mesmerist, and in herding her up to commit the murder he used his hypnotic power over Mrs. Kennedy.

Prince denied that he was a mesmerist, or that he ever mesmerized anyone, and said he had not been a practitioner as had been alleged. Prince detailed his whereabouts on the day of the murder. He had come to the office of his attorney this morning, he said, talking over a patent that he intended placing on the market, and went home about noon, remaining there until well into the evening.

He went to his father's place of business, and at 4 o'clock Mrs. Kennedy followed. He denied having a room at Mrs. Kennedy's town for hours before the murder, when she was supposed to have been en route to Kennedy's office.

The state's attorney, the afternoon of the murder, when he was supposed to have been en route to Kennedy's office.

Prince testified to leaving his father's business at 5:30 and going to the Ridge building, and that he heard the policeman's screams, he went to the second floor and saw a man shooting his sister. He had thought it was his friend, but when he got home he said it was his brother.

Prince, continuing, told of his sister's condition after the forced marriage to Will Prince, and that he had to leave with her. She was despondent, he said, and confined herself to her room, refusing to eat or to move about.

In cross-examination a letter written by the witness to the defendant in June, 1900, was introduced, and Prince was asked what he meant when he wrote that he had tired over Lulu's conduct. He said it was because she was sad and despondent. He did not say he was going to leave with her.

Patten, the baseball player, was called. He denied that the pistol with which Mrs. Kennedy did the shooting belonged to him.

He said he had been shot in the head a half hour before he left for the scene of the shooting.

Mr. Brock told of leaving at C. W. Prince's place on the morning shortly before the shooting, and of Will Prince's first leaving, and being followed closely by Bert Prince and his wife. Bert Prince and his wife and the Princes watched the entrances of the Ridge building at the time of the murder.

Brock, in cross-examination, became mixed as to the time of the shooting and the time set as to when the prosecution was wrong. Professor McCune introduced testimony given by Mr. Brock at a preliminary hearing to disprove his statement that the Princes watched the entrances of the Ridge building at the time of the murder.

And the waves
With antics fine
They dangle on the drooping line.

Ah, me! I like
To hit the pike
(Or for a private some agent strike)
And all afar
To beach and bar
Where summer sylph and siren are.

I feel—I know
I have a show
For more than where mermaids go;
And all through June
I'd spark and spoon
Beneath the mild Atlantic moon.

From dawn to dark
I'd swim and spark
The sun on gay Asbury Park,
Or be a god
Like Eros shot
On Little City's esplanade.

I'd beguile
With some wild smile
The guileless girls of Coney Isle,
Or find a peach
In easy reach
At ocean-breezy Manhattan Beach.

Or loud of song,
I'd storm and shock
The quiet Yankee tribe on Block,
Or shelter Isle
With my smile
And think me surely worth a pile.

Nantasket Beach
I'd try and show
The girls my gallant western speech,

Or down in Maine
I would attain
The brogue Bar Harbor holdeth sane.

O, I would flirt
With Neil and Gert
And Bebe till I became expert
At summer's play
Themselves—the pearls
Who draw the beau in maelstrom whirls.

And then when mild
September smiled,
I'd pack my homeward ticket, filed
For rambles, for
And lie me hence
To meet one girl of common sense.

That summer maid
Dweller, who stayed
At home, her face didn't fade,
But learned to do
A thing or two
That's tangible to me and you.

THE WRONG WORD.

A Spanish woman who has recently returned from a trip to Cuba tells a good story of her escape from incarceration in the insane asylum at Havana. Her ignorance of the Spanish language was the moving cause of her trouble.

She engaged a cab, intending to go to the railroad station for Marmaris. Now to the city she had just come from, data before the convention. All the architects in the city were summoned to appear before the executive committee of the national convention.

"Chairman Jones," said one, "we will be ready in time for the convention, although he had doubt it all along."

"There is one thing I want to ask you gentlemen about," he said, "and that is, what is the importance of the building?"

"We must have a building," he said, "but we must have a building that is safe and substantial that is will not tumble down the first time it is used."

"For my part," continued the senator, "I do not place us under oath, added

LYTLE STILL ABSENT

HE HAS NOT BEEN HEARD FROM SINCE JUNE 3.

WAS EMPLOYED BY WABASH

Family Has Traced Him to Barber Shop, but Has No Further Clew of Him.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS MAN?

Robert A. Lytle, 4812 Delmar avenue, Fifty-three years of age; five feet and one-half inches in height; rather thin and weighs 175 pounds; hair and mustache are white and he stoops slightly.

Wore gray clothing and a mauve-color fedora hat, which was usually tipped to one side; a white negligee shirt; the blue was marked 250; a white wash tie encircled a white collar; a silver watch and gold chain were worn; a stone charm was connected with the watch chain.

Robert A. Lytle of 4812 Delmar boulevard has been missing from his home since 7 o'clock on the morning of June 3.

His family has traced him to a barber shop on Maryland and Euclid avenues, where the stall has been lost.

Lytle has $70 in his possession when he left his house.

The money was a part of his salary, which he had received two days before his disappearance for the work he had performed in the service of the claim department of the Wabash Railway, where he has been employed for the last 20 years.

The family, which consists of Mrs. Lytle and a daughter, 18, and a son, 16, Lafayette, are mystified over the disappearance and suspect that Lytle has met with foul play, as he was said to be regular in his habits and could not have gone away on his own volition.

SCHOOL DAYS OVER

COMMENCEMENT AT MONTICELLO SEMINARY TUESDAY.

MANY WENT TO GODFREY

Luncheon in the Great Dining Hall and a Stroll Over the Fine Campus.

The sixty-third annual commencement of Monticello Seminary took place Tuesday at the Seminary in Godfrey, Ill. There were attending guests, old friends of the school, from almost every state in the union.

The graduating exercises were on Tuesday morning, in the Great Dining Hall, and the Rev. Dr. W. C. Godfrey, principal of the school, made his annual address, and complimented the students upon the prosperous year and good work.

The commencement of Monticello Seminary is probably more generally attended by the old friends and alumnae of the school than by any other school in the country. Many of the young ladies are wealthy and of high social position.

There were two Alton young women, Miss Grace Watson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watson, who is president of the senior class, and Miss Mary H. H. H. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Hewitt.

Miss Haskell, principal of the school, tendered the diploma to each class, and this has been her custom for many years.

To each young lady graduate Miss Haskell said a few words of farewell, and some fitting comment on the world's work, and several of the young ladies led to the front of the platform and made known the names of the schools they had attended.

Luncheon was served to the guests in the large dining hall of the seminary, and afterwards the two hundred students strolled over the beautiful grounds for an hour. The Monticello grounds are among the most beautiful in the state.

In the afternoon a social meeting was given by Charles W. Clark, the well-known barton. The guests will remain at the seminary until evening, when they will return to this city on a special train on the Chicago & Alton Railroad.

Attempted Suicide in Park.

George C. Thomas, a teamster, thinks he is destined to be himself before he is destined to be a common suicide. Thomas went to Tower Grove Park Monday afternoon and after slashing his left wrist with a pocket knife, lay down on the grass. He was taken to the City Hospital, where his injuries were treated and he was placed under observation. He is a man of 40 years of age, and has had other known remedy. Hundreds who have been treated surgically without results have been completely cured by Pyramid Pile Cure. Don't experiment with dangerous drugs nor run the risk of a painful surgical operation.

This remedy is a prompt, perfect and permanent cure for the most persistent case of piles. It is manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and has found its way into every wide-awake drug store on this continent. Ask for it and be cured of a disease which may lead to fatal complications.

Portugal Safe From Revolution.

The Queen of Portugal is one of the most popular reigning sovereigns in the world, reigning like a queen in Portugal is absolutely out of the question. The recent act of heroism through which the Queen was saved from drowning in the Atlantic Ocean, by a fisherman, the Queen, and his son, has won the plaudits of the young Queen, and is sure to bring her a great deal of admiration.

MAY SEEK NEW QUARTERS.

Merchants' League Club May Move

From Eighteenth and Olive.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants' League Club the question of new quarters for the organization will be discussed.

The lease on the club's present quarters at Eighteenth and Olive streets expires July 1, and it is not the expectation of the officers of the club that the lease will be renewed. The club will be looking for new quarters in the next two years, owing to the change in the city administration, and the organization, which for more than six years has been the strongest organization in St. Louis, and one of the leading Republican clubs of the United States, will be looking for a larger and better display for the next two years.

President C. R. Wagner of the club said that the club will remain in its present quarters as long as possible, but that the organization will probably be obtained.

DAYTON STREET POLICE COURT

A "ringer" in the prisoner's dock of the Dayton Street Police Court Tuesday shattered the tribunal's dignity, caused Judge Wisselius to sweat his collar into limpness in less than a minute, disturbed Prosecutor Dyer's serenity, flustered Detectives Kelly, Williams and Kenna, and greatly amused the spectators.

"Ringers" are a well-organized band of in connection with college athletics and horse races, but heretofore the courts have not been able to detect them in the Workhouse.

By "ringer" is meant a person or creature who takes part in an event in which he enters under false pretenses.

The Dayton Street police court took the place of a man who was charged with playing poker.

The "ringer" had not been discovered but for the fact that he believed the city was about to score a conviction, whereupon he put on a heavy coat and disappeared during the afternoon.
